Service at the noon hour always makes considerable difference to a man, but if he's in a hurry or for any reason wishes to expedite his lunch, it makes a lot of difference.

That's why noon-day lunches at the Hofbrau, under Walker's Bank, are always the most popular meals served here. Business and professional men can be assured of varied menus, carefully prepared, and of perfect service. The large and varied stock of excellent wines, liquors and cigars carried by the restaurant makes it possible for gentlemen to entertain out-of-town friends and business associates in a most satisfactory way. The restaurant caters exclusively to gentlemen and as it is under the same management as the New Louvre, the very best the season affords in the way of eatables is assured at all times.

E. L. WILLE, Manager.
